Getting these vaccines protects you from illness, hospitalization, and life-threatening complications.

Respiratory illnesses, such as flu and COVID typically increase during Fall and Winter. Make sure you're protected!

Flu Vaccination

Annual flu vaccination is recommended for everyone 6 months and older. October is a good time to be vaccinated against flu.

- Available to everyone aged 6 months and older
- Bring your insurance card with you

COVID-19

- Available to everyone ages 6 months and older
- Must be 2 or more months since last dose
- Bring your insurance card with you

Did you know?

- Vaccines are the safest way to build immunity from a virus and can reduce your risk of infection or becoming very sick if you do get infected
- The CDC recommends that all people aged 6 months and older stay up to date on COVID-19 vaccines and receive a seasonal flu vaccine
